BAHÁ'U'LLÁH

THE DIVINE EDUCATOR FOR THIS DAY

Bahá'u'lláh, Whose title means "the Glory of God," was born in Tehran, Persia in 1817. As the Prophet and Founder of the Bahá'í Faith, He taught that there is only one God, that all the world's religions represent one changeless and eternal Faith of God, and that all of humanity is one race destined to live in peace and harmony.

For forty years Bahá'u'lláh delivered the Revelation from God for this day. Thousands of verses, letters, and books flowed from His pen. His mission was to spiritually re-awaken humanity and to unite all the peoples of the world. Bahá'u'lláh's teachings form the basis of the Bahá'í Faith and offer a vision of infinite hope and healing for the world. For this noble purpose He endured a life of persecution, imprisonment, torture, and exile.

In His writings, Bahá'u'lláh outlines a framework for the development of a global civilization that takes into account both the spiritual and material dimensions of human life. He offers a vision of a world where the recognition of the oneness of humanity ultimately leads to lasting justice, peace, and prosperity. Today, His life and mission are becoming increasingly well-known across the planet. Millions of people are learning to apply His teachings to their individual and collective lives for the betterment of the world.
